Association

Sustainable. Resilient. Essential.

Leadership: 2024-2026

As of October 10th, 2024

ReMA Leadership

Leadership has several components:

- Governance: Entities with decision making authority and having fiduciary responsibilities for the Association as noted in the bylaws.
- Councils: Shared interest groups (also called Networks) that provide forums for individuals with common interests to gather and share information and best practices.
- Advisory Groups: Entities that provide forums for members to weigh in on key issues facing the Association.
- Working Groups: Groups formed for a specific task of limited duration that report their work directly to the ReMA Board of Directors.

Leadership Support

- Staff are responsible for acting as a resource, identifying issues for consideration and providing input to inform decision making by governance entities, and guiding discussions and providing support within generative groups.

ReMA Governance

Overview

Board of Directors

- Notes:
1. The Executive Committee is currently the only "Board Committee" under the bylaws, which gives it authority to act for the Board between board meetings (within restrictions set by the Board & bylaws)
 2. All other committees are "standing committees" designated under Sec 7.01 of the bylaws. They work on policy & program development around an issue or area of operation.
 3. Working Groups are formed for a specific task of limited duration and report their work directly to the ReMA Board
 4. The Board of Directors is THE governing board for the organization & acts on behalf of the association as a whole)
